DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Itoh (4671216). Figures 3-5 show offset finned cylinders/blocks with DOHC including two intake and exhaust valves. The cylinders appear are arranged at 70 degrees. The crankcase is not disclosed as mounting to front and rear EVO mounts/drives. While the cylinders are disclosed as being at 70 degrees, the figures actually show them to be around 45 degrees; it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to arrange the cylinders at any angle desired for fitting within a motorcycle frame. The present specification admits (page 1) "many aftermarket engine manufacturers produce their designs based on this EVO mounting configuration"; therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Itoh to fit onto stock EVO crankcase mounts/drives so as to reach a wide market.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 4/18/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicants argue that the engine of Itoh could not fit into the stock EVO platform because the physical dimensions would not allow a front and rear motor mount to mate with the EVO engine mounting locations; and the output is a driveshaft to the rear wheel which would not conform to the EVO drive train design.

Art Unit: 3747

The examiner contends that there is nothing about the engine/transmission of Itoh that prevents the engine from being modified to fit an EVO mount; one of ordinary skill in the art could always modify the shape and size of the engine housing to fit into the motorcycle frame and receive bolts to be secured thereto. The engine of Itoh does indeed use a drive shaft, but there is nothing in the claims that prohibits the use of the drive shaft. The claims only require that the engine be mountable in a EVO design; the motorcycle frame with respect to the rear wheel is not set forth.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
